

GREAT PLACES AND SPACES

Merin Hunter Codman's new look

After being in the same space for 30 years, NAI Merin Hunter Codman's leaders wanted to create a fresh work environment to invigorate and inspire its employees. As a commercial real estate firm, it also wanted to reflect how people want to work today with collaborative spaces and natural lighting. Chairman Neil Merin was the primary designer working with Julie Carr and Rosana Moreira of The CI Group of Boca Raton. Modern elements and bright colors are combined with rustic pieces like a distressed wood barn door to create an eclectic, professional and fun environment. A café area is a central focal point.
